

HEY I'M JYN FAIRCHILD

I LIKE MAKING GOOD SHIT

jynfairchild@gmail.com

I love to be challenged; to think outside the box. I like working with companies that make meaningful connections with people. A place where my co-workers are as passionate about the things they love as I am about design.

bld.ai

2020 - 2022

Bld is a uber talented growing agency working in a dozen countries. At bld, I managed a design team of 7, executing designs for 150 engineers over 20 projects. My role included feedback & guidance for existing projects, nailing prospective clients, and hiring new designers.

cat & husky

2019 - 2021

I co-founded an agency called cat & husky in 2019 with a long time trusted engineering partner. As cat & husky, we become well known in the machining industry after several successful projects. We were convinced to join bld.ai after hearing their vision on the future of agencies.

art platform

2019 - ongoing

After google, I started an underground art platform. While not financially anything to write home about, it has a small but dedicated community drawing and painting some of the finest art on the internet.

google

2015 - 2019

I worked at google for 4 years. I worked on a wide range of different projects, Google Search, Google Maps, with most of my time spent @ Youtube. I learned how to push good design inside a large rigid organization. But most of my real innovations came in new ways to work with engineering partners.
